

Chinese Librarianship: an International Electronic Journal

Copyright Declaration

All copyrights belong to the author, not to the CLIEJ. He or she is therefore permitted to republish his or her article elsewhere.

The Internet Chinese Librarians Club does retain the right to maintain a copy of those articles on each of its various electronic publishing channels and the right to cooperate with other online publishing corporations with a view to promoting the Chinese Librarianship.
