

Chinese Librarianship: an International Electronic Journal

Scope:

CLIEJ is a peer-reviewed e-journal. It focuses on both the practical and the theoretical aspects of the Chinese librarianship. It publishes research findings, theoretical explorations, and case studies by librarians, information scientists, library school faculty and students of Chinese heritage, as well as by librarians and information professionals of other nationalities on issues related to serving patrons with Chinese materials. It also reports any major development of the Chinese librarianship around the world.

Publisher:

CLIEJ is published exclusively on the Internet by the Internet Chinese Librarians Club.
