

International Conference on Leadership and Innovative Management in Academic Libraries in the Age of New Technology

Tongji University, Shanghai, China
April 25-27, 2012

Academic libraries are in an era of new technologies with both challenges and opportunities posed by technological transformation. Libraries need to engage in extensive exchange and dialog on leadership vision, management and service innovation to enhance librarians' mutual understanding in these areas and to inspire new thinking and approaches to challenges. The International Conference on Leadership and Innovative Management in Academic Libraries in the Age of New Technology is jointly organized by Tongji University and the Chinese American Librarians Association (CALA). The meeting will be held in Tongji University, Shanghai, China, from April 25-27, 2012. Colleagues from around the world are invited to submit a PowerPoint file for consideration as a presenter.

Suggested topics for this conference include, but are not limited to, the following:

- Modern approaches to effective leadership
- Library management and developmental planning
- Librarian career design
- Building and sharing library resources in a new technology era
- Practice and reflection for subject librarian services
- Transforming and innovating user service models
- Library technology rejuvenation and developmental prospects
