

From: Małgorzata Filipczak <malgorzata.filipczak@sunlib.p.lodz.pl>
Date: Sun, May 6, 2012 at 11:42 PM
Subject: "Library Innovations" to be translated into Polish (can I?)
To: titangosh@santacruzpl.org, djan@library.berkeley.edu

Dear Hui-Lan and dear Deborah,

I have found your article "Library Innovations in the 21st Century: An International Perspective" on the Internet at <http://www.iclc.us/cliej/cl23TitangosJan.htm>

I like this article. It touches problems we experience in Poland, too. Would you allow me to translate it into Polish and place in the free librarians' online journal "Bulletin EBIB" (<http://www.nowyebib.info/>)?

I am interested in library education and popularization of electronic resources, so I can understand the importance of the subject. I do appreciate your article, thank you for publishing it and for its wide horizons.

Kind regards,

Malgorzata Filipczak
Science Reference Division
Technical University of Lodz Library
Poland